ABA Architects Mentors “School of the Future Design Competition” Winner

Tucson, Ariz., May 2009—Imago Dei Middle School, traveled to Washington, D.C., in late April and came home with a $2,000 national first-place award in the School of the Future Design Competition. Imago Dei's project of a school complex incorporated solar energy, shade sails, water harvesting and greenhouses for urban agriculture. There also was a community resource center to bring the neighborhood into the school community. The students were mentored by ABA Architects, Kim Fernández, AIA, LEED AP, and Marie Gervais, LEED AP.
